John 17:1-5 ESV

When Jesus had spoken these words, he lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, “Father, the hour has come; glorify your Son that the Son may glorify you, ² since you have given him authority over all flesh, to give eternal life to all whom you have given him. ³ And this is eternal life, that they know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. ⁴ I glorified you on earth, having accomplished the work that you gave me to do. ⁵ And now, Father, glorify me in your own presence with the glory that I had with you before the world existed.”

The glory of God is the magnificence, worth, loveliness, and grandeur of his many perfections, which he displays in his creative and redemptive acts in order to make his glory known to those in his presence. The glory of God is interwoven throughout the biblical story and forms the origin, content, and goal of the entire cosmic narrative... It is so central to Scripture that the story of the Bible is in some sense the drama of God's glory.

We glorify God when we throw a spotlight on how great God is. To glorify God is to make much of him... To glorify God is to magnify the greatness of his character... To glorify God is to honor his worth. Pointing others to the majesty of God and being satisfied with the worth and weight of this majesty make us God-glorifiers.
